Dear Parents and Families,

The only message I would like to send to all of our parents and families is to say, thank you for all of your support, community spirit and partnership. This year we have definitely achieved our mission through working together, anything has been possible.

It has certainly been an emotionally challenging year for everyone and through it all, our children have been at the center of everything we do and every decision we make. We have been immensely proud of all those who have been involved in our school over this last year: parents, families and governors – you have all made such a positive impact towards achieving what we have this year which has been immense.

Alongside this, our dedicated staff team have, as always, shown great commitment to our school and community; worked hard together to support each other and ensure our 'family' is a happy one. Thank you to each member of the team for all that you give.

Finally, I wish everyone a peaceful and restful Summer and look forward to the Autumn term with excitement and anticipation.

As always, take care and stay safe,

Gill

BOOK OF THE WEEK

Where the Wild Things Are – Maurice Sendak

One night Max puts on his wolf suit and makes mischief of one kind and another, so his mother calls him 'Wild Thing' and sends him to bed without his supper.

That night a forest begins to grow in Max's room and an ocean rushes by with a boat to take Max to the place where the wild things are.

Max tames the wild things and crowns himself as their king, and then the wild rumpus begins!

But when Max has sent the monsters to bed, and everything is quiet, he starts to feel lonely and realises it is time to sail home to the place where someone loves him best of all.
